Location (data) MATTERS.

It's the building blocks of your market planning.

Location data is useless if it's inaccurate, old, hard to access or incomplete. It has short-term impacts on your market research and real estate strategy and long-term implications on business growth and decisions in the real world.

We know this because we've lived this. That's why we set out to build a location data solution with quality at its core. Our promise to you is data that is...

Accurate

We use only primary sources, and double check it for rooftop geocode accuracy.

Verified

Extracted data is rigorously cleaned, standardized and enriched by humans.

Current

Updates happen every 90 days or better, so your data is fresh - guaranteed.

Complete

We use meaningful attributes with no duplicates and more consistency.

Making market insights accessible for all.

Today, everyone needs data.

We believe that anyone should be able to get location data in any format with uncompromising quality at a good price.

Whether you're using it to select sites, track competitors, evaluate trends or boost marketing tactics, we want to help.

Talk to ChainXY today to get accurate and current location data on millions of points of interest around the globe.

Because location MATTERS. Period.
